kluster

magnetic stones game

1. Divide the stones equally between players at the start.

2. Take it in turns to place a stone anywhere inside the inner ring. It cannot be touching the ring. If it does, you can reposition it on your turn, but...

3. If any stone snaps to another, or is pushed out of the ring before the next player takes their turn, you have to pick up all these stones and the stone you placed. Then it's the next player's turn.

4. The winner is the first to place their last stone without any pickups! No stones left? You win!

Want even more of a challenge? Play the stones on their edges! Your stone must stay on its edge on the turn when you place it. After that, they are allowed to fall over as long as they don't snap to others or leave the ring. Watch them spin as the magnetic fields build...
